SAINT IN SOUTHERN STATES

Both Old Parties Wrecked on Tariff; Progressive Plan Must Be Tried

CHICAGO, Dec. 2.—Progressives of 34 states, in a conference session of the executive committee of the party, expressed their confidence in the progressive party principles and their determination to continue the party in existence.

Reports were heard from the various states and later a statement was issued by the executive committee through its chairman, George W. Perkins of New York, declaring that the Progressive organization and campaign of education should continue and that the national committee of the party should be left to fix the time and place for holding the national convention of the party in 1916 and to transact business relating to the presidential campaign in 1916.

Originally Great Britain and France asked the United States to exercise its good offices with Ecuador and Colombia to secure a strict observance by these nations of neutrality obligations.

Although this controversy, according to latest reports, is being adjusted, the menacing situation in Chile has emphasized the dangers to South American republics of the continued presence of foreign warships off their coasts.

GEN. DE WET, LEADER OF SOUTH AFRICAN REBELS, CAPTURED

Famous Soldier and Tactician Made Prisoner at Waterburg by Colonel Brits

PRETORIA, via London, Dec. 3.—(Thursday, 5:40 a.m.)—Gen. Christian de Wet, leader of the rebellion in Union of South Africa, has been taken prisoner, according to an official announcement made here. He was captured by Col. Conrad Brits last Tuesday on a farm at Waterburg, a town 100 miles east of Mafeking, in British Bechuanaland.

Gen. Christian de Wet rose to fame as commander-in-chief of the Orange Free State forces in the South African war. Starting as a burgher by his birthplace, which for a long time made vain the pursuit of the remnant of his army, although 20 British columns were engaged in it. He was one of the strategists of the peace conference after the war, and later was minister of agriculture in the Orange river colony.

General de Wet at the outbreak of the present war offered a corps of South African "scouts" to Lord Kitchener. Later he protested against the action of the Union of South Africa in fighting the Germans and took the field against the British forces.

General de Wet has several times been reported as meeting with revolutionaries, and once as having been wounded. One of his sons was killed in the fighting, and two sons are said to have surrendered.

Robert Price Hurt in Auto Accident

Robert Price, connected with the Shoup-Hopkins interests here, and employed as a salesman by the Manitou Mineral Springs company, is in St. Joseph's hospital, Denver, suffering from a broken leg which he sustained in an automobile accident north of Denver late yesterday afternoon. Price's injuries are not serious. Numerous reports reached Colorado Springs from Denver last night to the effect that Berne Hopkins of the Midwest Oil company was injured, and later reports stated that R. D. Morrison, also connected with the Midwest company, was injured in the accident, but these proved to be without foundation. Hopkins, together with others of the Midwest interests, is in Cheyenne, Wyo.

Details of the accident were lacking at an early hour this morning, but it is thought that Morrison was riding in the car with Price, but escaped uninjured.

CARLSON URGES AN INDUSTRIAL COMMISSION

Only Hope of Handling Labor Problems, He Tells Federal Probe Commission

CALL AMMONS AND OSGOOD

Operator Discusses Various Matters Brought Up by Coal Miners' Strike

DENVER, Dec. 2.—An industrial commission, to serve without compensation, was the panacea for the industrial ills of the coal fields, to which his administration will be best suggested by Governor-elect George A. Carlson before the federal commission on industrial relations when he was called at the first session today.

One of the functions of the committee he has proposed would be the drafting, with the assistance of operators and miners, of an equitable employers' compensation act. He corroborated the testimony of Governor Ammons in the opening of the session that the machinery of state government was defective in that administrative heads of departments were appointed by members of the governor's executive staff and that the chief executive of the state was powerless to control the activities of such administrative heads. Many of such appointees had been openly at variance with the policy of Governor Ammons, it was stated.

No Authority Now.

In the handling of an industrial dispute, he said, "there is no organized body ready to enter the field. The governor must wait for the legislature to convene. Then a committee is appointed. It takes the committee members time to become acquainted with themselves and their tasks. Then there is a questioning among the people as to whether this member or that member is not controlled by this or that interest. By the time they get to work the dispute has proceeded to violence, getting further away from any settlement."

Mr. Carlson was still on the stand when the session adjourned until tomorrow.

Governor Ammons, the first witness of the day, testified that the state had made final arrangements to sell the last of the $1,000,000 insurance bonds issued at the special session of the legislature last spring to defray the past indebtedness and future expense of the militia, and that he had notified President Wilson. He expected the president to withdraw the federal troops at an early date.

Don't Like Little Follies.

J. C. Osgood, chairman of the board of directors of the Victor-American Fuel company, testified that about a dozen smaller mine owners had signed up with the United Mine Workers of America during the strike because of their financial condition. These operators had been members of the informal organization of about 60 companies formed at the beginning of the strike for mutual protection.

"What was your attitude toward these men who had signed up?" asked Commissioner Garretson.

"We did not feel particularly cordial," said Mr. Osgood, "for we felt they had taken advantage of our condition to better their own and that we had borne the burden of the situation."

"You feel about the same as a union man who went on strike and saw another man taking his job?" asked Mr. Garretson.

A sudden burst of applause from the galleries of the Senate chamber drowned the answer and brought forth a warning against a repetition from Chairman Walsh.

EVEN 'MERRY CHRISTMAS' CAN'T GO THROUGH LINES

Packages From America for War Sufferers Must Bear No Inscription

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—Not even the words "Merry Christmas" may be written on packages of supplies sent to the starving Belgians.

The American commission for relief in Belgium announced today that the placing by donors of an inscription of any sort inside or outside the package might subject the entire consignment to confiscation by officials suspicious of a military code message.

In one case which has come to the commissioner's notice, a shipload of goods bound for Genoa—not however, one of the relief ships was held up a month because of a single word printed on a box—“Danzig.”

The prohibition extends to expressions of sympathy and even initials of senders. Private marks or tags are equally prohibited. The legalistic conditions under which goods go from Rotterdam into Belgium are that positively no mark or message of any description is permitted to which German officials could object.

MINISTERIAL POLICY OF ITALY IS TO BE MADE PUBLIC TODAY

Parliament Assembles in This Gravest Moment in History; Fear Socialists

ROME, Dec. 2.—The Italian parliament will assemble tomorrow and its deliberations are awaited with anxiety, as this is considered the gravest moment for Italy since its unification. Four hundred and fifty deputies and 50 senators are already in Rome to attend the session.

Premier Salandra, in presenting the new cabinet, will make a statement concerning the industrial policy. An extremely interesting passage will deal with the attitude of Italy with reference to the present European war, and the premier will explain the reasons that actuated the government in maintaining a armed and watchful neutrality.

The statement will contain an announcement of the military and naval preparations, for which almost 1,000,000 troops ($20,000,000) have been appropriated, and also of the steps taken to alleviate the suffering of the unemployed.

The leaders of the various groups will make brief speeches, and it is expected the deputies and senators will unite in showing confidence in the cabinet, with a view to having the Italian parliament give evidence of its solidarity before the foreign powers. Pressure in this direction has been made on the Socialists, who, in spite of the exceptional situation, will probably show some opposition.

DAVID LAMAR CASE WILL GO TO JURY TODAY; NO DEFENSE

Represented Self as Congressman, but Didn't Intend to Perform Duties

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The case of David Lamar, charged with impersonating Representative A. Mitchell Palmer of Pennsylvania with intent to defraud J. P. Morgan & Co., and the United States steel corporation, will go to the jury in the federal district court here tomorrow. After Lamar's counsel had surprised the court today by announcing that they would interpose no defense, Henry K. Davis, chief counsel for Lamar, summed up and Judge Sessions announced that the jury would be charged tomorrow, after the prosecution had made its final address.

Mr. Carlson was still on the stand when the session adjourned until tomorrow.

Governor Ammons, the first witness of the day, testified that the state had made final arrangements to sell the last of the $1,000,000 insurance bonds issued at the special session of the legislature last spring to defray the past indebtedness and future expense of the militia, and that he had notified President Wilson. CHAIRMEN SELECTED BY CHAMBER OF COMMERCE

Heads of Fourteen Committees Appointed for New Year; Members to Be Named Soon

The assignment of chairmanships for the 14 standing committees of the Chamber of Commerce was announced yesterday by President T. C. Kirkwood. Recommendations as to the members of the various committees will be made by the chairman within the next few days and will be considered at the next meeting of the board of directors. There are from five to 26 members in each committee. The chairmanships were announced as follows:

Advertising, J. W. Atkinson; agriculture, J. J. Eberle; ultimate conditions, Dr. A. C. McGruder; commerce, J. B. Fogler; education, C. G. Graham; finance, Asa T. Jones; food and entertainment, E. L. Whitney; legislation, Frank Cottrell; membership, Ted Powell; municipal affairs, Judge Ira Harris; streets and highways, C. A. Hibbard; trade and industry, W. E. McClung; transportation, C. P. Schilder.

The proceeds of the loan, which is the first to be negotiated in the United States by a neutral European nation since the beginning of the war, will be used to purchase "various commodities" in this country. The loan, regarded in the financial district as the forerunner of other loans to such other nonbelligerent European nations as might desire to buy our commodities or general merchandise.

NEW YORK, Dec. 2.—The banking house of Kuhn, Loeb & Co. and the National City bank today announced the joint purchase of $5,000,000 of two and a half per cent British treasury notes, which will be publicly offered at par and accrued interest.

No member is allowed to serve on more than one standing committee at the same time. With the election of members to the committees the work for the coming year will be outlined and discussed, and in a short time the new administration hopes to be in smooth running order.

KAISER GIVEN $1,250,000,000 WAR CREDIT

Reichstag Votes New Issue With Only One Dissenter, Liebknecht

WAR LAID TO BRITISH DOOR

England's Veto Would Have Prevented Conflict, Says Chancellor

BERLIN (via Amsterdam to London), Dec. 2.—With only one dissenting vote, that of Herr Liebknecht, Socialist, the Reichstag today voted a new war credit of $5,000,000,000, marking ($125,000,000).

The president of the chamber at the opening of the sitting, dwelt in a speech on the unity and patriotism of the German people, and commented appreciatively on the large number of members of the refighting who are now serving the country at the front. In his exposition of the progress of the war the president said:

"Japan joined our enemies from a desire to seize as booty the monument to German culture in the far east, on the other hand, we have found an ally in Turkey, as all the Moslem people wish to throw off the English yoke and shatter the foundations of England's colonial power. Under the banner of our army and our fleet we will continue."

The imperial chancellor, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg, attended the session dressed in the gray service uniform of a general. All the secretaries of state and the Prussian ministers also were present. Many of the members of the chamber were in uniform and wore iron crosses.

Kaiser Sends Greetings.

In an address to the members of the chamber, Dr. von Bethmann-Hollweg said:

"The emperor is absent with the army, but he has charged me to transmit his best wishes and cordial greetings to the German house of representatives, with whom he knows he is united until death in stress of danger, in common concert for the weal of the fatherland."

"Our first thoughts go to the emperor and the army and navy who are fighting for the honor and greatness of the empire. Full of pride and with unshakable confidence we look on them and our Austria-Hungarian comrades in arms, who are truly united to us, to fight and to win great battle with brilliant bravery."

"Our latest ally in the war forced upon us is the Ottoman empire which well knows that if the German empire were destroyed, it would lose its national right to arrange its own destiny. As our enemies have formed a powerful coalition against us they will, I hope, find that the army of our brave allies reaches the weak spot in their world position."

England Responsible.

PROGRESS ELSEWHERE.

Regarding the progress of the war, the French official statement reports a violent bombardment of Lammerup, the seat of the Danish government, and says the views of the American government on the building of submarines in this country are European bellicosity.

"Mr. Schwab, said Mr. Lloyd, "expressed his hearty endorsement of the statement issued by the Earl of Warwick, Lord Beauchamp, of Essex, which advises the people in this country to take part in the fighting as volunteers, as such action would only assist in reprisals and possibly in a repetition of the horrors that have taken place in Belgium."

Submarine Building FOR BELLIGERENTS IS DISCUSSED BY BRYAN

Confers With Schwab of Bethlehem Concern, Subsidiary Building Boats

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Secretary Bryan, today visited Captain Schilder, president of the steel and steel companies in the state, and expressed his views on the building of submarines in this country, the European bellicosity.

"Mr. Schwab, said Mr. Lloyd, "expressed his hearty endorsement of the statement issued by the Earl of Warwick, Lord Beauchamp, of Essex, which advises the people in this country to take part in the fighting as volunteers, as such action would only assist in reprisals and possibly in a repetition of the horrors that have taken place in Belgium."

The visit of Mr. Schwab, however, revealed that the administration had taken no official position on the subject, notwithstanding that government agents, after a thorough investigation and report to him, found that war was being waged elsewhere in this country in the construction of foreign warships or parts thereof.

It is believed, however, that the state department, desired to consult with the steel company officials to determine if violations of neutrality, if contraband, were taken. While the export of implements of war such as guns, shells or munitions is not prohibited by the neutrality laws, the fitting out of a ship of arms, or the fitting out of a vessel for foreign purposes, is prohibited.

The visit of Mr. Schwab, however, revealed that the administration had taken no official position on the subject, notwithstanding that government agents, after a thorough investigation and report to him, found that war was being waged elsewhere in this country in the construction of foreign warships or parts thereof.

SAN FRANCISCO, Dec. 2.—Submarines are under construction here by the Union Iron Works, which is owned by the Bethlehem Steel corporation. The boats are to be shipped in sections and made up on the coast of California.

The Four Rivers Shipbuilding company, Quincy, Mass., also owned by the Bethlehem corporation, is reported

WHOLESALE PROSPERITY

A FEW days ago the president of the Studebaker company returned from England with a fifteen-million-dollar order for automobiles, wagons, sleds, harness and other army equipment. A British agent has placed an order for 500 automobile trucks with the Jeffery company, and the French government has contracted with the Jackson company for one million dollars' worth of automobiles.

The Oklahoma company has contracted to furnish five million tons of corned beef for the British army, and will reopen its plant at South Omaha, which has been closed for several years. The United States Steel corporation put two thousand additional men at work in its South Chicago plant the other day to fill war orders. Its plants are now running at 70 per cent capacity, as compared with 30 per cent in September. Its West Virginia coal mines, which have been closed since last spring, have just been reopened on full time.

An ammunition company in Vermont is working on an order for $2,500,000 worth of cartridges for the Allies. Reports from San Francisco say that cotton purchases by China and Japan are limited only by the carrying capacity of the available ships.

The October export balance in favor of American trade was more than $60,000,000 as against $16,000,000 in September, and as against a debit balance of $20,000,000 in August. Belligerent nations bought supplies from the United States in September and October of over $250,000,000. Their agents are fairly swarming over the United States, buying steel, ammunition, automobiles, trucks and wagons, harness and saddlery, horses and mules, canned meats, wheat and flour, clothing and shoes—in short, not only almost anything that enters into the conduct of war, but innumerable products to supply the demand due to the cessation of work in European factories.

Meanwhile domestic markets are improving. Detroit is asking bids for 25,000 tons of 48-inch iron pipe, the largest single order in the trade for several months. Boston is asking bids on 4,000 tons of 60-inch pipe. Never was the country in better condition to meet such a revival of industry. It has just harvested the greatest yield of farm products, reckoned in dollars and cents, ever produced in any land since the beginning of time. The figures total considerably more than five billion dollars.

The value of the corn, wheat, oats, barley and rye this year is half billion dollars more than last year. Great Britain's weekly requirements of wheat are estimated at 4,000,000 bushels. France's at 1,500,000 bushels, and the rest of Europe that is open to commerce requires about 4,500,000 bushels. Meanwhile, the sum yearly spent by Americans in European travel estimated to be in excess of $250,000,000 is being kept at home.

We feel sorry for anybody who can read these figures and remain a pessimist as to the condition of the country. There never was a time when the United States was fundamentally on a sounder basis.

THE LAST DROP

THE Associated Press sent this dispatch from Amsterdam a few days ago:

A message from Brussels to the Handelskantoor states that the German governor of the province of Brabant, in which Brussels is located, convened a meeting of financiers and told them that Belgium must pay $7,000,000 monthly for the maintenance of German troops.

In addition to this sum, it is told, Belgium must contribute a war levy of $7,000,000 as a penalty for violations of neutrality by Belgium and losses ensuing therefrom to Germany.

A week ago the American Commission for relief in Belgium issued the following statement:

With regard to a statement published in America and credited to General von Frankenhorst, governor of Antwerp, to the effect that if America had not been so kind-hearted as to send troops to Belgium the Germans themselves would have conquered in their duty to help, for from Germany, we cannot conceive that the German governor of Antwerp ever authorized such a statement and are inclined to believe that the statement is unfounded.

The following cited, through their representatives, have made appeals to the German representatives in Antwerp, for food: Malines, Liège, Willemstad, Boom, Duffel, Torhagen, St. Nicholas, Coutich and Wanaken. They were refused.

Last Friday two town councilors of Antwerp came to our headquarters in Rotterdam and stated that they had been released by the German authorities under bond of $6,000,000 francs ($1,000,000) to obtain help for the defense of Antwerp, and upon their urgent representation, we sent 500 tons of supplies to Antwerp.

The provinces of Limburg and Luxembourg adjoining the German frontier, have made repeated appeals to the Germans for the right to buy food in Germany and import it into Belgium and have been consistently refused.

The various German publicity bureaus in this country constantly boast of Germany's splendid economic condition; its abundant supplies of money and food; its ability to stand an indefinite struggle. Germany has no desolated fields, no cities and towns laid waste; its crops have been harvested; its factories, we are told, are running full time except where the employees have joined the army.

Then why, in the name of humanity, does Germany persist in robbing the body of its victim? It has burned, beaten, mauled and plundered that heroic little country whose splendid resistance will live in history for a thousand years. Germany knows, just as the whole world knows, that Belgium is today prostrate under its iron heel. It knows that 7,000,000 people are subsisting on charity, chiefly the charity of America. It is Belgium's next-door neighbor, and in complete control of all means of communication. To ship supplies to the suffering would be no more difficult than shipping trainloads of soldiers and siege guns.

And observe how the great, generous heart of the German nation responds to this need! Germany hears the cry of suffering at its very doorsill suffering for which it alone is responsible. And its answer is characteristic. It robs a few more banks, levies indemnities on a few more towns, takes what cash remains in the country and which could be spent for food and clothing. And the German authorities are even generous at times for instance, note the courtesy with which they release the two town councilors of Antwerp on a million-dollar bond to enable them to go to the American commission and secure 340 tons of supplies! Fine! Quite the finest demonstration of German "kultur" since the war began; even better than the scrap of paper incident.

Perhaps, though, the Kaiser has an unsuspected reason for this merciless extorting of money from a naked and starving people. He may be accumulating a little fund against the day when a few million allied troops, swarming over Germany, will put a cash price on every cross-roads town and village, ending only with Berlin itself.

OPEN PARLIAMENT

[All letters intended for the Open Parliament must bear the name and address of the writer, not necessarily for publication, but as an evidence of good faith. Controversial letters will not be published without the signature of the writer. Communications for that department should be limited to 100 words and should be free from personalities. Religious controversies cannot be conducted in this column.]

A DEFENSE OF CATHOLICS

To the Editor of The Gazette: During the past week two anti-Catholic articles have appeared in the columns of The Gazette. The first one, a covert attack on our Sisters of Charity, was signed by Henry R. Noble, 24 South Tejon street, a purely mythical person, by the way, since no such name appears in the city or telephone directories, nor is a person of that name known at the street address given.

This is a typical example of the most common method used by our non-Catholic friends.

The second article is stated to be from South America (distant lands are generally requisitioned for such purposes). The writer shows all of the earmarks of the unsophisticated traveler that has fallen an easy prey to certain guides of marvelous discernment who furnish the kind of information most enjoyed by their patrons.

I do, however, strongly protest against the statement which you printed in this way, "Proceedings of a holy image." No such presentation should appear in a newspaper intended for the public at large. Your correspondent showed the customary misconception of "Catholic dogma." Our blessed Lord in the great sacrament of his love is carried in solemn procession through the streets. My delight is to be with the children of men—and this insult is proffered. Surely such a writer is guilty of a gross and uncalled-for irreverence which demands reparation.

Why this name calling? Why this publication?

These bad names, whether traditional or otherwise, have the trouble of thinking. All Jesus are running all the monks are intemperate and immoral. All Sisters live luxuriously and do for themselves (the poor). All Catholics are traitors; these are the phases to get by heart and publish and make the hearers of the name better dead. Sometimes, however, an independent thinker rises up and says,

"I will find out who provided over the baptism of these unfortunate, and before I reach for my gun I will find out whether the bad name is deserved." Such men as that, not too lazy to use their own brains, not so cowardly as to be a mere echo of local, distant or historical gossip, find out that, after all, good can come from Nazareth, despite its bad name. Such intellectual and moral heroes stand and begin to live.

JOHN F. MCGINNELL, Colorado Springs, December 2.

FROM OTHER PENS

From the Chicago Tribune: Major General Wetheredon believes that the regular army should be increased to 200,000 men with provisions for a reserve to total 300,000. This would provide a mobile army of 80,000 in case of trouble. He also believes that the reserve should should be applied to the National Guard organization, and that it should be brought more under the control of the national government.

The figures seem large, but they are to be read in connection with the figures representing our population and the water figures representing our material interests. The plan for an effective reserve may by now be regarded as an axiom of national defense. It is the duty of every man and our people to look the situation squarely in the face and meet our responsibility.

We look forward to a world of peace, but that world is not yet here. We trust that the end of the present war will see an immense reduction in armaments, an extension of the principle of arbitration and a greater readiness to resort to it. We will do nothing that savors of affront, aggression or militarism. But we should set our house in order quickly and efficiently.

THE KNOCKER WHO HIRED A HALL

From the St. Louis Post-Dispatch:

The other night a prominent New Orleans citizen who desired to chasten the old town that he loved but didn't altogether admire hired a hall in which to relieve himself of some long accumulated chagrin.

Said he: "When a man has a grouch he should not worry his friends with it, but hire a hall and advertise. Those who don't want to hear him can stay away. I never grumble to a man who has to listen to me. I pay for the privilege of grumbling to people who like to hear it."

Thus everybody has a good time and the freedom of speech is given some good healthful and invigorating exercise. Maybe it is good for the town, too, to get a first-class "bawling out," as the New Orleans prom. cit. affirmed. But in any event it can't hurt the town. If "bawling out" could hurt or destroy a town the whole area of this country would resemble the region of the Dead Sea and ancient Jericho. The most criticised, censured and condemned town in the United States is Chicago—and look at the blamed thing! The great danger that Kansas City runs is the absence of knockers—they put in all their time boasting. They are too likely to lift themselves to sleep with their mean self-praise, and wake up to find the ideal community of the happy valley a back number.

The New Orleans man declared in his hired hall that his town contains more knockers in proportion to population than any other city—but he didn't mean to be bragging. The fact is that knockers are builders, and they are bound to make of New Orleans something more than a "stately pleasure dome" before they get through with it. What would St. Louis be, what would St. Louis be, without its devoted guild who wield the hammer?

LET US WAIT

From Life:

It is the habit of peoples, when involved in a serious war, to fight first and think afterwards. The trouble about thinking like the German masses is that there is no evidence that the German masses have yet begun to think. They are very busy fighting and taking care of wounded men, and a great many already are dead. Forwards, the Social-Democratic German paper, showed signs of thinking, and our heart was suppressed. The only German thought that showed just how in this Pan-German, world-power, Machiavellian thought that has brought on and is conducting the war. The nature of Germany behaves as though it was completely pantrated and possessed with this thought. If we are to think like a German it is the only important and effective thought available for us at present.

And yet, if we attribute it to all Germans, it may be we shall do them an injustice. It may be that they are already beginning to think thoughts of their own not identical with this governing thought of the Prussian force-worshippers, and that a little further along in the war, when the Russians, say, finally cross the German border, we shall begin to get a new line of German thought which is not derived from Treitschke and Bernhardi, and, perhaps, is not strictly Hohenlohe.

Let us wait a bit and see. The new thought, if it comes, may be very, very interesting and fruitful; fruitful possibly of the sort of fruit that hangs from trees by hempen stems and is harvested in coffins.

Let us wait. And especially let our brother-Americans of German descent be advised to wait a little, too, and not be absolutely confident that they are thinking like Germans until the whole of German thought has had a chance to disclose itself.

The present leaders and directors of German thought and action are the most important foes of democracy in the world. If our fellow republicans here of German descent give the whole of their adherence to their present leaders, the later German sober second thought may terribly embarrass them. What will they say? Ridder, Munsterberg, the Roosevelt exchange professors and all the Kaiserbund—if German thought suddenly changes on them? When will they speak for them? Not for the United States, certainly, for they don't now; and not for Germany, Germany sheds the Kaiser.

We do not envy the gentlemen in this country who have got in with the Kaiser. If his tree goes flat they will have a very long walk home.

"Blessed Be Nothing"

BY RUTH CAMERON

What criterion do you use on the question of throwing things away?

Do you say, "I might use that some day," or, "It seems too bad to throw that away," and then decide to store it in your bureau drawer, or attic, or cellar and keep it there a few years longer?

Or do you ask yourself, "Does the possibility of my using this article outweigh the use it might be to another, plus the annoyance and work involved in storing it?" and then act accordingly?

The Latin word for baggage, as you probably know, is "impendimenta." It is easy enough to see what that means. Now a working outfit of clothes, furniture, books, etc., is necessary baggage for the journey of life, though even these get in our way sometimes and burden us and shackles us. But to carry along through life, on top of this, a non-working outfit whose only claim on your hospitality is that it seems a shame to throw it away, is surely to translate our baggage into "impedimenta" with a vengeance.

The whole trend of our American life is toward too much impedimenta. We buy too much, we have too much in our homes, we store away too much. I took several barrels of stuff that had served a brief day of use and then been stored away for years—photographs of casual friends, bric-a-brac, inexpensive calenders, fads of the moment, elaborate up-works of various sorts—it made my heart ache to think how little value and how much money these represented.

Why this name calling? Why this publication?

These bad names, whether traditional or otherwise, have the trouble of thinking. All Jesus are running all the monks are intemperate and immoral. All Sisters live luxuriously and do for themselves (the poor). All Catholics are traitors; these are the phases to get by heart and publish and make the hearers of the name better dead. Sometimes, however, an independent thinker rises up and says,

"I will find out who provided over the baptism of these unfortunate, and before I reach for my gun I will find out whether the bad name is deserved." Such men as that, not too lazy to use their own brains, not so cowardly as to be a mere echo of local, distant or historical gossip, find out that, after all, good can come from Nazareth, despite its bad name. Such intellectual and moral heroes stand and begin to live.

OUR SHAM ARMY

From the Chicago Tribune: Major General Wetheredon believes that the regular army should be increased to 200,000 men with provisions for a reserve to total 300,000. This would provide a mobile army of 80,000 in case of trouble. He also believes that the reserve should

OUR ARMY

In these tremendous days when either side of the European dispute is likely to itch the other at any minute and to jostle around for something else to conquer, many Americans are scanning our standing army with a microscope and a worried look.

Our standing army consists of two months of infantry, with a chapter of cavalry and a few cannon for an appetizer. The United States numbers about 60,000 soldiers, who are ready at any minute to answer to the call of their country and "push" 10,000,000 invaders off our beloved soil. Nothing would be so inspiring to the patriotic American business man as to watch this gallant band dash madly into ten times its number of foreign warriors and reduce them to a disorganized remnant of supplicants in quarter. Miracles are always inspiring to watch.

The United States has always been averse to employing large bodies of troops.

SPRINGS WOMEN COMPLETE ANOTHER BIG
SHIPMENT OF CLOTHING FOR WAR VICTIMS3,000 Garments, Made Here for Destitute Bel-sufferers were on exhibition at Banta hall yesterday afternoon from 2 until 3 o'clock. An astounding amount of warm, serviceable and appropriate articles have been gathered together by the Relief League from circles and individuals in all quarters of the Springs, Colorado City, and Manitou.

The exhibition was in charge of Mrs.

largely to their efforts that this second shipment of offerings is even a greater satisfaction than the last.It would be difficult to give more than a general idea of the worth and workmanship of the various articles.
The common room of Banta hall was filled with large tables heaped with contributions tied and tagged for ship-

the display were the careful and ex-

An appropriation of $300,000 has been set aside for the advertising depart-the 1915 budget, and each and every Colorado as the ideal place to visit on the transcontinental route to California next summer, according to G. H.

Logan, commercial agent for the Colorado & Southern offices in this city, who returned this week from the annual convention of Burlington passenger-traffic agents in Chicago."We expect a large amount of travel next summer," said Mr. Logan, "and we also expect the biggest part of it to stop in various parts of Colorado.
It was the unanimous vote of the convention that Colorado should be explained in all of our advertising literaroute to the expositions in 1915."Two hundred and fifty delegates from all parts of the United States attended the meeting, which was presided manager of the Burlington railroad.The appropriation of $300,000 will be divided among the different districts which are on the Burlington route, and the Pikes Peak region will receive a fair amount. Colorado will be advertised in connection with the world's fairs, all the big eastern and other mediums of advertising. The Burlington is the only railroad in the

COMMANDER DIRECTS BATTLE BY TELEPHONE

TROOP MOVEMENT EASY BY USE OF MODERN FIELD APPARATUS; GERMANS STOP FIGHTING FOR LINCHEON; CORRESPONDENT DESCRIBES ACTUAL CONFLICT

BERLIN, Nov. 25 (Correspondence of the Associated Press).—Newspaper correspondents, as is well known, have seen almost nothing of the actual fighting in this war, but on the German side there is now one account of a battle written by one of the men who watched it from the headquarters of the commanding general himself. This was a recent engagement fought on the East Prussian frontier in Russia, and it was described by Captain Schubert, the war correspondent of the Local Advertiser. What he saw and the conversation just of General von Hindenburg is this reported:

"The battlefield was spread out before me in a panorama. A slightly elevated street led away toward the horizon. We could clearly see the movements of the infantry in division to our right. Making his way to the entrance at hand, a general of infantery forward to relieve his battery whose thin battle lines were just visible through our glasses. It advanced in closed formation, in double quick, along the line of the ridge. How important this movement was seen at this moment was shown by the bursting of a Russian shrapnel over that ridge, but some time after our men had crossed it just like on drill," said his excellency with a smile.

Call for Assistance.

But the Russian artillery heads to be easily watched. "A call from the regiment was summoned from the telephone. The commander asks for artillery supports for the Russian batteries have proved too strong to be taken by infantry." From a booth in another shelter pit, where the commander of the division to which the regiment belonged had taken his position of the division to which the regiment belonged had taken his position, a head Captain Oesterreich gave the telephone order to change the aim.

Then he dashed to the nearest field telescope to watch the bursting point of the first shot fired at the new point. After that he sprang back into the pit and shouted: "Twenty shorter." With great attention we watched with our glasses the further developments and saw how the shrapnel explosions moved closer and closer to the southern edge of the village, almost obscuring it with their smoke. His excellency looked at his watch: "Just 11," he remarked, "almost lunch time." We saw the ring of German riflemen drawing up closer and closer around the village.

WHAT THE PRESS AGENTS SAY

"THE CRIMINAL CODE"

At the Empress today William Fox presents the four-reel master feature, "The Criminal Code," a production replete with mental heart-throb in which romance, pathos and thrilling situations predominate. A story of an orphaned girl adopted by a master-criminal, who educates her and then forces her to steal is the basis of this tensely dramatic production. It is told on the screen with a virile gait. The final vindication of the girl is presented in the most astounding and unusual manner. The acting is convincing and the characters are portrayed with skill and finesse. The photography is point-perfect and artistically toned. The interior settings are elaborate, and the production throughout its entire length consists of fully-realized and intensely dramatic climaxed and sensational situations. If you like the realistic production, don't hesitate to see this one.

"The Way of the World," a single-reel drama is also on the bill and a single-reel farce is one of the best even. It's a world while show throughout and you should see it by all means.

"PEG O' MY HEART"

Oliver Morosco will present at the Opera house, matinee and night, Saturday, December 6, his production of J. Hartley Winters' overwhelmingly successful comedy, "Peg o' My Heart," which has broken all the dramatic records of a decade at the Cort theater, New York city.

"Peg o' My Heart" opened the new Cort theater, the most beautiful playhouse in America, and instantly the little white marble palace became the point of attention for the entire city. "Peg o' My Heart" rapidly crept up in public favor until it was neck and neck with that supreme success, "Within the Law," and at last, in early summer, actually passed that piece in point of monetary figures, a lead which it afterward steadily maintained, and finally outlined that attraction.

The extraordinary success of "Peg o' My Heart" is unquestionably accounted for by its humanity and wholesomeness—two elements which in these days of bizarre, mechanical plots and tawdry sexuality are put so far in the background as to be almost mythical.

Peg, the little Irish-American girl, is as witty as a character from Thackeray's pen, she is as philosophical as a Balzac, Jeanne Bille, who has the quaint pathos of a Dickens' person—a being from a world of hard facts, certain sur-rows and exuberant joys with a touch of melancholy sobering the brightness of her laughter, and with smiles that tremble for the small, irresponsible tones of indolence.

"Peg o' My Heart" proved conclusively that New York can still laugh heartily and sincerely of humor which is not coarse, and that a simple story, directly and simply told, is more potent than any plot, fantastic, complex or merely artistic.

RAYMOND HITCHCOCK

Scene for Raymond Hitchcock's entrance in "The Beauty Shop" the next side attraction at the Opera house next Monday, December 6, will be played on stage tomorrow morning at 2 o'clock sharp.

"The Beauty Shop" is a three-act musical comedy in which Hitchcock, as Dr. Biddle, a beauty specialist, is said to have met with unusual success, at least. It was the verdict of New York and Chicago playgoers on the piece, which is the work of Channing Pollock, Renold Weil and Charles J. Geest, who wrote "The Red Widow."

"The Beauty Shop" company, principals and chorus, are an exceptionally large one, numbering, as it does, upward of one hundred people and comes here complete, just as presented for many months at the Astor theater, New York.

PRINCESS THEATER

"Cabiria," the great photo spectacle which was presented at the Princess theater yesterday and will be shown again this afternoon and tonight, has added a feature which has never been done before. An orchestra of 10 pieces played the original score of music which was written especially for this wonderful production. It was played so wonderfully that after each episode an applause came forth in abundance. If you have never seen "Cabiria" try and witness this production at its farewell in this city. The music played for Haussibl crossing the Alps and Karabado crossing the Sahara desert was wonderfully interpreted and made one think that they were in foreign lands.

MRS. WATERS INFORMED OF HUSBAND'S DEATH

Word was received here yesterday that Mrs. J. H. Waters, widow of the president of the Short Line railroad, who died last week, has been informed of the death of her husband, and that she withstood the shock better than was expected. Mrs. Waters has been ill in a Los Angeles hospital for several weeks, and has been attended by her daughter, Mrs. Charles R. Holden. Her son Harry went to California last Saturday. It is said that Mrs. Waters probably will be able to leave the hospital in two weeks.

MUSTEROLE—QUICK RELIEF! NO BLISTER!

It Soothes and Relieves Like a Mustard Plaster, Without the Burn or Sting.

MUSTEROLE is a clean, white ointment made with the oil of mustard. It does all the work of the old-fashioned mustard plaster—does it better and does not blister. You do not have to bother with a cloth. You simply rub it on—and usually the pain is gone!

Doctors and nurses use MUSTEROLE and recommend it to their patients.

They will gladly tell you what relief it gives from Sore Throat, Bronchitis, Croup, Stiff Neck, Asthma, Neuralgia, Congestion, Pleurisy, Rheumatism, Lumbago, Pain and Aches of the Back or Joints, Strains, Sore Muscles, Bruises, Chilblains, Frosted Feet, Colitis, Ulcers, and the like. It is a real pain killer.

At your druggist, in 25c and one jar, and a special large hospital size for $2.50.

Be sure you get the genuine MUS-

TEROLE. Refuse imitations, get what you ask for. The Musteroles Com-

NEUTRAL ZONE FOR COASTWISE VESSELS OF AMERICANS, PLAN

Panamerican Union Will Discuss This and Many Other War Questions

WASHINGTON, Dec. 2.—Proposals for creating a neutral zone in the waters of the Western Hemisphere and conserving the rights of neutrals will be laid by the United States before the governing board of the Panamerican Union.

The governing board will meet Tuesday.

Secretary Bryan said today that all the suggestions which have been made will be discussed. Argentina, Chile, Peru, Uruguay and Ecuador are among the nations which have been proposing a neutral zone.

Colombia already has adopted the latter method of dealing with belligerent ships.

Argentina and Ecuador have informed the United States that they believe a number of new questions have arisen since the outbreak of the war which demand joint consideration by the Panamerican nations, because of the identity of their interests as neutrals.

Those two countries suggested the calling of a conference either of special delegates or of diplomatic representatives, through the Panamerican

Union, with a view to a thorough discussion of the situation.

The best remedy for acid stomach is a bland diet.

Take a few drops of Musteroles

each day.

It is a real pain killer.

C. C. Athletic Board Awards Rothgeb "C"

Basketball Is Still Uncertain at the College

Fourteen Varsity Football Players Given Coveted Emblems and Two "Subs" Are Honored: Season Is Successful Financially

For the first time in the history of athletics at Colorado college, a professional coach has been awarded a black "C" emblematic of making the football eleven. At the meeting of the athletic board at the college last night, Claude J. Rothgeb, who has been in charge of athletics at the college since 1910, was awarded the emblem. The board awarded "C's" to 14 members of the football squad and to two substitutes. The "C's" were given, the men in question being seniors.

The footballers—who received the black "C"—are Captain Kramer, Ragle, Coughlin, Minnack, M. Davis, Garside, Van Stone, C. Davis, Taylor, Schweiger, Ceder, Larson, Ross, and Birch. Fred Karpf and Clarence Adams, seniors and substitutes, were awarded the double C in recognition of their season's work.

Partial reports on the season's financial status were encouraging. The Tiger management made money during the season and had a better year than in 1913. In fact, the returns from the three big games here are enough to insure fairly clear sailing for track and baseball, which do not pay themselves. In reality, these two branches of sports athletics are always losers from a financial standpoint. Football costs the neighborhood of $2,000 a season. It is the most expensive sport and at the same time the most profitable, because Colorado Springs fans patronize the game in a manner pleasing to the management.

The question of having basketball at the college still is in doubt. The faculty must rule as to whether or not to begin in the conference basketball league and will discuss the proposition probably tomorrow night. However, it is not expected that there will be anything definite done until President Stevens returns from the east. After the faculty takes up the matter then the athletic board will pass on it.

From the looks of things the question will not be decided until the Christmas holidays. The basketball schedule is made out at the December meeting of the conference, in connection with the schedules for spring athletics and football as well. As a rule, basketball play does not start until February. Basketballers, however, are at work in the gymnasium in the men's building, and the interest displayed in the game and the amount of material that is out for the indoor sport presages a good collection of basket shooters.

This is the first time that the college has been equipped to handle basketball. The main gymnasium is arranged with galleries that will seat about 300 people, and the room itself is equipped with everything the athletes need. Three basketball courts are in use every afternoon. It would be a shame, now, that the college is equipped to handle basketball, if something should come up to prevent having a room.

Portuguese will coach the indoor athletes in this game. He had two good teams when he coached the Aegle basketball team and he is expected in the indoor sport. Portuguese contract calls for coaching of all teams for Inter-collegiate athletics, and it holds over until June, 1915.

both arms were free, sent in short-arm left to the face and body and at the end of the second, had out Welsh's right eye. The third was even, Welsh sending hard lefts and rights to the face.

Shugrue forced the fighting in the next three rounds. In the fourth he punished Welsh on the body and he sent the Englishman's head back with a hard, straight left in the fifth. Welsh jabbed and sidestepped in the sixth, but Shugrue was too far from him continually.

"There is no discredit attached to a defeat by such a team as yours, and it is a pleasure to record them well-merited praise," Captain Fullam wrote.

Both fought valiantly in the tenth. Shugrue forcing Welsh to a corner and Welsh doing likewise with his opponent. They were in a stiff mixup at the bell.

M. W. A. Elects Officers for Year

Colorado Springs camp No. 7226, Modern Woodmen of America, at a meeting last night, elected officers for the year as follows:

J. L. Zimmerman, consul; S. C. Tait,
last consul; J. G. Tait, advisor; E. W.
Marshall, banker; C. W. Whitehead, clerk; Roy Waggoner, escort; F. A.
Bradburn, watchman; W. H. Major, secretary; M. F. Smith, J. D. Charlton and C. H. McCumber, trustees; F. A. Prior, musician; J. C. Hass, George E. Swan
and E. E. Snyder, building committee.
All physicians who are members of the camp were elected as examining physicians. The installation of officers will take place at a meeting to be held January 6, 1915.

Last night was the occasion of the annual election and about 500 members attended the meeting. There was much enthusiasm and some of the contests were close. A number of new members were adopted and a vote taken on the application of several others.
Members of the order pointed out that a big revival is on and that the winter season promises to be a busy one in the local camp. Dr. J. A. Rutledge, medical director and superintendent of the Modern Woodmen sanatorium, will deliver a lecture in the interests of Modern Woodcraft at a meeting of Pueblo camp No. 7111 to be held in Pueblo tonight. He will be accompanied on the trip by District Deputy H. C. Henderson and other members of the local camp.

News of the Courts

The case of the Zang Brewing company, v. J. I. Lacey, which has been on trial in the district court for the last three days, probably will go to the jury today.

Police court cases yesterday committed of the following: W. J. Newburn, fined $5 for violating night ordinance and Florence Law fined $5 for statutory offense and committed to jail.

William Lubinsky and E. J. Nugent of Colorado City, whose names were on a promissory note for $100, signed by J. D. Dunbar, yesterday declared in the county court that their names had been forged. The case is that of Lovina Cram against the two, the plaintiff charging that they went surety for the note. Dunbar has left the city.

WHERE MILLIONS
MAY BE MADE

From the December Wide World
Magazine

South Georgia, that little-known, desolate land in the South Polar region, is highly noted for its valuable whaling industry. There are stations scattered here and there along the coast and the beaches near these es-stablishments are potential gold mines, for they are covered with hundreds of thousands of tons of whalebones, strewed here and there for miles. These bones are full of oil and make excellent guano when crushed. They would bring a huge fortune to anyone treating them systematically, but the whalers are too busy collecting valuable cargoes of first-grade oil direct from the blubber to bother about this residue of their industry. So there the bones lie, waiting to yield their treasure of oil to some enterprising capitalist with the pluck to embark in the business of collecting them.

Deaths and Funerals

Mrs. Eva Elizabeth Troutman, aged 85 years, a pioneer settler of the Pikes Peak region, died Tuesday at the home of her daughter, Mrs. Henry Kranz, 125 East Pikes Peak avenue. She was survived by a son, L. M. Troutman, and three daughters, Mrs. Kranz of this city and Mrs. State and Mrs. Gilman, both of Oklahoma. The funeral will be held from the residence tomorrow morning at 10 o'clock. Interment in Evergreen cemetery will be private.

Johannesburg, South Africa, has started plans for a grand fair to be held in 1916.

From the December Outline.

In taking photographs of snow scenes or water, in which trees and darker objects are near, the exposure should be determined for the darker objects and should not be cut down to the quarter of the time on account of the snow or water. If detail is to be preserved in them, hold out the strong blue and violet rays with a ray-screen. The exposure should be cut down only when snow, sea or sky make up the bulkline of the picture and other objects are absent or their detail is unimportant. It should be remembered that the purpose of the ray-screen is that of an equalizer, to kill the preponderant effect of the blue and violet rays while you are exposing for the less active ones from other parts of the picture.
